

ENTOMBED IN COAL MINE

TWO HUNDRED LIVES MAY BE LOST

Explosion in Pennsylvania Mine Results in Great Loss of Life—Little Hope of Rescuing the Entombed Men.

Pittsburg, Jan. 25.—Nearly two hundred men have been entombed in the Hawick mine of the Allegheny Coal company at Cheswick. General Manager Schoetz gives little hope that many of the men will be brought to the surface. The explosion occurred at 8:20 this morning at the bottom of one of the shafts, presumably caused by fire damp. It was 4 o'clock this afternoon before it was possible to make the first attempt at rescue. Two men tried to get into the mine by way of stairs through air shafts, but were finally driven back by foul air. The main shaft of the mine, 220 feet deep, was made useless by the explosion, which hurled both cages, one of which was within thirty feet of the bottom of the shaft, through the tangle, thirty feet above the surface.

Shortly after 5 o'clock temporary rigging was put in place over the mouth of the main shaft and a bucket carrying Selwyn M. Taylor, mining engineer, and J. M. Rayburn was lowered into the shaft. There was silence for fully forty minutes after the cage reached the bottom. Then came a summons to haul up. When the cage reached the top Rayburn was there and with him was Adolph Gorgie, a miner, still alive, but gasping for breath and evidently seriously injured. Again the cage went down and this time it carried E. Taylor, an assistant of Selwyn Taylor, and also Robert North and J. McCan, who had made the first attempt.

The village of Hardwick that surrounds the mining workings was horror stricken all day. Wives and relatives of entombed men have crowded about the entrance pit, beseeching for news of loved ones below. Doctors have been summoned from surrounding towns and also from Pittsburg.

Manager Schoetz said to night to the Associated Press that the explosion was so terrible that both cages were blown from the shaft, one a distance of over one hundred feet. He also said that at least one hundred and fifty men are in the mine and expressed fear there are a number more, although he said there are several men on the pay roll who did not report this morning.

MANY ARE DEAD.

From all that can be gathered at this hour between 150 and 190 men are lying dead in the headings and passageways of the mine. Cage after cage has gone down into the mine and come up again, but only one miner of all those that went down to work this morning has been brought to the surface. In addition to the miners at work when the explosion occurred it is now believed that Selwyn M. Taylor, a Pittsburgh mining engineer, who plotted the mine and who was the first to reach the bottom after the explosion happened, is also now among the dead.

One of the rescuers who went in with Taylor says that after the party had gone a considerable distance he began to feel sick and dizzy and then saw Taylor stagger and fall. His lantern fell, others tried to lift him up, but could not carry him, and they made their own way to safety.

Three rescuers who have returned to the surface declare that, in their opinion, all in the mine outside of the rescue party, are dead, including Engineer Taylor.

FLOOD DAMAGE.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 25.—The lower portions of the city, including a large part of the business section and resident districts of Riverside, Beechwood and South Side, are under water to day. The crest of the flood is now here and the waters will begin to fall soon. All public buildings available were occupied last night by persons driven from the flooded districts. Several hundred persons were driven from homes, while many are living in second stories of houses.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

Nashua, N. H., Jan. 25.—John P. Goggin, treasurer of the Nashua Trust company, was arrested to day charged with embezzling $80,000 to $100,000 from the bank. The bank did not open to day. State bank commissioners have the institution in charge.

Goggin was held in $10,000 bonds. He says his downfall is not due to speculation, but to having given assistance to a friend.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

Ashtand, Neb., Jan. 25.—A passenger train on the Burlington collided with an extra freight here to night. Engineer Grabbill of the freight train was killed. Two passenger cars were thrown from the track and a number of people injured, but none seriously.

DEATHS.

Iowa City, Iowa, Jan. 25.—Dr. J. W. Harriman, professor of anatomy at the Iowa State university, died to day of appendicitis, aged 38.

CHOKES TO DEATH.

Litchfield, Jan. 25.—Fred Boyd, a glass-blower, choked to death here yesterday afternoon in a restaurant on a piece of beefsteak. He was a young married man.

THE MINE WORKERS

Convention Considers Report of Scale Committee—But Few Changes Are Made

Indianapolis, Jan. 25.—The national convention of the United Mine Workers before adjournment to day went into executive session to consider the report of the scale committee. But few changes were made in construction. An amendment providing for election of national officers by direct vote of delegates to the national convention was defeated.

Probably the most important feature of consideration of the constitution committee's report was the decided action taken by the convention against adopting the stamp system for collection of per capita taxes and dues. The recommendation of the committee that the system be adopted was killed under leadership of Illinois and Ohio.

The initiation fee of the organization was fixed at $10 for practical miners. For others the fee is left to discretion of the district.

A resolution was adopted providing that the organization go on record against disfranchisement because of race, color or previous servitude.

SAYS COMPANY IS UNKNOWN.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The department of state has received from Consul Mayer, at Buenos Ayres, Argentine republic, a report concerning a company in Minneapolis with branch offices throughout the United States. The company is selling shares of $500 each, each shareholder being entitled to certain lands and privileges in the Argentine republic. The company, according to Mayer's informant, claimed to have made certain arrangements with the Argentine government, whereby colonists will be exempt from taxation for ten years and will be allowed to carry all their household goods, farm machinery, etc. into the country free of duty. They claim to be able to buy lands in Argentine for from fifty cents to two dollars per acre and will divide the said land among the shareholders. Consul Mayer says the chief of the land office at Buenos Ayres informs him that Argentine does not know the company and that he has no arrangements with them whatever.

MURDER MYSTERY

No Additional Developments in the Murder of Miss Schaefer at Bedford Ind.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 25.—Concerning to day's developments in the mystery surrounding the murder of Miss Schaefer, the school teacher, Mayor Smith said: "We have no evidence which justifies arrest of any one yet, and so far as I know no arrest will be made to day."

In response to a telegram from H. Hahn, a cigar maker of Louisville, who declared he could conduct the officers to a woman who might be able to throw light upon the mystery, Chief of Police Russell and Sheriff Smith went to Louisville to secure an interview with the woman. The officers interviewed her and claim to have secured valuable information. The woman's story, it is said, was told only after a pledge on the part of the officers that her name should not be divulged. It is, therefore, impossible to obtain information regarding the Louisville interview.

Mayor Smith asserts there is absolutely no significance attached to the return of the officers from their interview with the Louisville woman. He says the woman was a clairvoyant seeking notoriety.

NOT A WORD TO SAY.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 25.—Former President Cleveland, when asked to night by the Associated Press for his opinion on William J. Bryan's statement that no man who voted the Palmer-Buckner ticket can be nominated by the Democrats, smiled and said: "I have not a word to say on the matter, except that Bryan has got the stage, let him go. I guess that's definite enough."

PUT BABY BROTHER IN OVEN.

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 25.—While Mrs. Edward Smith was chopping wood to day her daughter, 5 years old, placed a baby brother in a hot oven, closed the door and baked the baby to death before the mother returned.

OFFICIALS ARRESTED.

Green Bay, Wis., Jan. 25.—Aldermen A. L. Gray and George Schwartz, City Attorney Fontaine and City Assessor Parmeter were arrested upon warrants based upon indictments returned by the grand jury, charging bribery.

AGAIN IN OPERATION.

Peoria, Jan. 25.—The Acme Harvester company, closed for several months because of financial difficulties, to day resumed operations with a force of several hundred operatives.

WRECK ON ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

Memphis, Jan. 25.—An Illinois Central passenger train, New Orleans to Chicago, was wrecked to day near Gates, Tenn. It is reported one person was killed and several injured.

DAY IN HOUSE AND SENATE

VARIOUS QUESTIONS DEBATED IN CONGRESS

Army Appropriation Bill Passed by the House—The Bill Carries $75,000,000—Other Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The senate to day heard further discussion on the question of appointments to office made during congressional recesses, listened to speeches on the isthmian canal question by Morgan and passed a number of bills of a semi-public character. As a result of debate on the appointment question a resolution asking for specific information concerning the nomination of W. D. Crum, collector of customs at Charleston, S. C., was passed. A resolution asking for similar information concerning the nomination of Brigadier General Wood and other army officers went over until to morrow. Among bills passed was one authorizing erection of a monument to the memory of John Paul Jones.

Morgan addressed the senate on his resolution instructing the president to enter into negotiations with Nicaragua and Costa Rica, looking to construction of the canal via the Nicaragua route.

He contended the protocols with Nicaragua and Costa Rica negotiated by President McKinley were binding to the United States. The agreements could not be obliterated, he said, by closing our eyes to them, but on the contrary they would live to reproach us if we permitted the president to violate them. Morgan declared the president had willfully violated the Spooner act requiring him to turn to the Nicaragua route in case of failure to secure desirable concessions for the Panama route. He said the president could not justify evasion of the law by attempt to show he had observed "the essence of the law." If that policy was to be pursued the time would come when we would be compelled to add to the oaths of presidents the words: "Without mental reservation or purpose of evasion."

Morgan closed with an appeal to the senate not to aid the president "in his open and wayward violation of the law and pledges made in Nicaragua and Costa Rica."

HOUSE.

The house to day passed the army appropriation bill, carrying approximately $75,000,000, after adopting several amendments.

The provision for consolidation of the adjutant general's department and record and pension office of the war department into one bureau to be known as the military secretary's office was stricken from the bill on a point of order raised by Grosvenor (Ohio).

An item of $100,000 for construction of an army general hospital at Washington also went out on a point of order, as did a paragraph providing for construction of a submarine cable from Sitka to Fort Lisicum.

A resolution calling on the secretary of state for information as to the number of carriages maintained by the government for the state department was adopted.

THE POSTAL TRIAL.

The trial of August W. Machen, Groff Brothers and Dr. and Mrs. George Lorenz, indicted for conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with sale of letter box fasteners, entered on its third week to day. To day's testimony related almost entirely to identification of Machen's signature and initials on certain letters and papers covering Groff fastener transactions.

CAPITAL NOTES.

The senate passed bills authorizing construction of a bridge across Thief river, Minnesota, and a railroad bridge across the Missouri river at Yankton, S. D.

Secretary Moody Monday night gave a farewell dinner to Secretary Root, who is soon to retire from the cabinet.

Preparations are making at the war department for transfer of the secretary's office from Root to Taft. The new secretary is expected Wednesday afternoon. Secretary Root has issued cards for a large reception Friday evening in honor of his successor.

To avoid long delay in payments to contractors for performing star route mail service throughout the country the post office department is arranging to make monthly payments instead of quarterly for star route service. The change will go into effect first in Iowa and Connecticut.

WINDOW GLASS FIRM FAILS.

Pittsburg, Jan. 25.—The S. McKeer company, window glass manufacturers, filed a petition in bankruptcy this afternoon. Liabilities, $275,000; assets, $216,000.

DEATHS.

Des Moines, Jan. 25.—Maj. Harry Sherman, brother of Gen. W. T. Sherman and Secretary John Sherman, died to day.

A LIFE AT STAKE.

If you but knew the splendid merit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of pneumonia or a gripe. It may save your life. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

NO PUBLIC FUNERALS

Stringent Measures Adopted to Stamp Out Typhoid Fever At Canton.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 25.—At a special meeting of the Canton board of health stringent regulations have been adopted to stamp out the epidemic of typhoid fever which has raged for several weeks. Surface wells have been ordered closed, public funerals and opening of caskets prohibited where deaths result from typhoid and instructions of the state board of health, ordered published. Medical examiners and fumigators have been employed to assist the board of health.

New Orleans, Jan. 25.—Stewart E. Pierson and Walter A. Brown, who say they are from Carrollton, Ill., were arrested yesterday on complaint of Charles Christman, of Hattiesburg, Miss., a former state senator of Mississippi. Christman alleged that Pierson and Brown were probably thieves that nipped a valuable diamond pin while he was in a street car on the way from the Illinois Central depot to the Grunewald hotel.

Taken before the authorities the arrested men were loud in their denunciations. Pierson stated that he is the assistant cashier of the Greene county national bank at Carrollton, Ill., formerly a member of the Masonic lodge there, a member of the county central Republican committee and a stockholder of the Hulse-Hodge Lumber company of Hodge, La.

He says that he stands well in Carrollton and that he can prove his reputation by hundreds of people in Illinois. He showed the police letters which he claimed were written him by H. J. Hamlin and Frank Lowden, candidates for governor of Illinois. They are of a political nature. He also showed the police letters written by the lumber company and receipts for lodge dues.

Brown said that he is a lumber man and that he has a rating in Bradstreet's. He also claims that he was at one master of the lodge of Masons in Carrollton, Ill. He stated that he came south with Pierson to attend the meeting of the Hulse-Hodge Lumber company. Both are stockholders. He showed papers which seemed to bear out this statement.

The men were placed in a cell, but were later paroled. Christman will appear to prosecute them to morrow.

MILK DIET FOR PUMPKINS.

Traveler Tells of Monsters Raised by Pennsylvania Farmers.

"Punkins," said the man who had returned to Fall River, Mass., from Pennsylvania, "punkins! Why, you people hereabouts don't know what a real abole-bodied punkin is. These prize affairs that you show with so much pride at your county fairs and boast about are mere infants, pigmy babies, beside the punkins raised by the Pennsylvania farmers. Place one of your largest beside a small one from Pennsylvania, and 'twill compare about as a pea does with a big potato."

"Those Pennsylvania farmers set more store by their barns than they do by their houses. You'll find a man living in a place that resembles a cowshed owning a barn that looks like a mansion. Big barns, they are always spick and span in white paint and with green blinds and shutters. Their fences, too, put to shame that of the average New England farmer. Bew tumble down, tottering, weather beaten fences are seen on Pennsylvania farms. But this is a digression. The punkins are the main thing, the pride and bulwark of the Keystone State."

"Those punkins are raised and tended as carefully as blooded stock. They feed them on milk twice a day, morning and night, not skimmed milk either, but the best Jersey fluid, thick with cream. This milk diet is begun with the punkin of tender age and continued through the age of maturity. The way those milk fed punkins get fat and rotund and wax strong is almost unbelievable. They put iron bands around them, and the punkins swell until they burst the bands as though they were paper. They are the Sandwogs among punkins. One who has never seen a Pennsylvania punkin field stumbling on one on a moonlight night would think he had struck the ruins of ancient Thebes or monuments raised by giant hands."

"What do they do with those punkins?" asked a listener.

"Furnish the country with pie material," replied the speaker.

Hints For Housekeepers.

Skim the soup before putting in the salt, as salt stops the rising of the scum.

A nutmeg will grate more readily if you start at the blossom end.

Never soak fresh fish in cold water or place directly on artificial ice. Keep in a cool place.

Give the schoolgirl onion sandwiches. They will do for her complexion what the schoolroom never can. Slice the onions as thin as possible, salt and place between the slices of buttered bread with a spray of parsley to kill the odor given the breath by the onion.

THE VERDICT RENDERED

IN THE IROQUOIS THEATRE FIRE INQUIRY

Mayor of Chicago and Other City Officers Held to Await Action of the Grand Jury—Warrants for Arrest to Issue.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The coroner's jury which for three weeks has been listening to evidence relating to the fire in the Iroquois theatre to night returned a verdict by which the following persons are held to await action of the grand jury: Carter H. Harrison, mayor of Chicago. William H. Musham, fire marshal city of Chicago.

Will J. Davis, proprietor in part and manager of the theatre. George Williams, building commissioner of Chicago.

Edward Laughlin, building inspector under Williams.

William Sellers, fireman in the theatre. James E. Cummings, stage carpenter.

William Mullen, who had charge of the light that caused the fire.

The report of the jury was not expected before morning and the announcement that a verdict had been reached at 11 o'clock to night created much surprise.

The coroner at once decided that all men who should be held by the verdict to the grand jury should be taken into custody to night. He, therefore, at once prepared warrants for their arrest and called upon the police department for officers to serve them.

"I do not expect that some of these men who are likely to be held will try to escape," said the coroner, "but some who have not large property interests might take it into their heads to do so. I do not intend there shall be any mistakes in that direction laid to my department. If I cause the arrest of one I am compelled to cause the arrest of all and there will be no favoritism shown, no matter who are the men held by the jury."

As soon as the findings of the jury were announced details to officers were at once sent for the men named in the verdict, with orders to bring them in at once, and if they could not furnish bail they were to be taken to jail for the night.

FINDINGS OF THE JURY FOLLOW:

The cause of the fire was drapery coming into contact with a flood are light; city laws were not complied with relating to building ordinances regulating fire alarm boxes, fire apparatus, damper or flues on and over the stage and fly galleries; violation of the ordinance requiring fireproofing of scenery and all wood-work on and about the stage; asbestos curtain wholly inadequate and entirely destroyed; building ordinances violated in that aisles were enclosed on each side of the lower boxes and absence of fire apparatus on the orchestra floor; ordinances violated in that there was no fire apparatus in the gallery or first balcony.

Will J. Davis is held responsible as president and general manager. He was primarily responsible for the observance of the laws and bound to see that his employees were properly instructed as to their duties in case of fire.

In relation to Mayor Harrison the verdict reads:

"We hold Carter H. Harrison, mayor of the city of Chicago, responsible, as he has shown a lamentable lack of force, and his effort to escape responsibility, evidenced by the testimony of Building Commissioner Williams and Fire Marshal Musham, as heads of departments under Carter H. Harrison, following this week course, has given Chicago inefficient service which makes such calamities as the Iroquois theatre horror a menace until the public service is purged of incompetencies."

Williams was held "for gross neglect of duty in allowing the theatre to open its doors when said theatre was incomplete, and did not comply with the building ordinances." William Sellers, fireman at the theatre, report to him the lack of fire apparatus.

Sellers was held for not reporting the lack of fire apparatus; McMullen for carelessness in handling the light that caused the fire; Cummings for not providing the stage with proper fire protection.

GERMANS SUSTAIN LOSSES.

Berlin, Jan. 25.—An official dispatch from Windheek, German Southwest Africa, says Germans have lost heavily in unsuccessful attempts to relieve Okahandja. Five settlers and entire families have been murdered and Hereres are threatening Windheek.

INSURGENTS AGAIN DEFEATED.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Jan. 25.—Government troops have again defeated insurgents commanded by General Saravia in an engagement at Paso de la Cruz Jan. 22. Insurgents are crossing the Brazilian frontier, where they are being disarmed.

BALTIMORE FIRM ASSIGNS.

Baltimore, Jan. 25.—Failure of the brokerage and banking firm of E. N. Morrison & Co. was announced to day.

READY FOR EXHIBITS

Managers of Worlds Fair Urge Exhibitors Not to Delay

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 24.—The Louisiana exposition now stands ready and is waiting for the full and general installation of exhibits. The point has been reached where the management of the exposition is no longer occupied with the rapid advancement toward completion of the buildings, but instead, it now lays particular stress upon the importance of the speedy shipments of exhibits, especially those assembled by domestic exhibitors.

Officials of the exposition make the statement to the Associated Press that the one thing of paramount importance to insure the anticipated and successful opening of the world's fair is the immediate commencement, by domestic exhibitors, to ship their cars forward just as rapidly as can be done.

Owing to the unprecedented participation by both foreign and domestic exhibitors, vast amounts of exhibits have been and now are in the course of arrangement and collection. The time for the opening of the exposition is rapidly approaching, but apparently the knowledge of that fact is not causing the shipment of exhibits to be rushed forward with the promptness and dispatch that is absolutely essential to insure rapid delivery of the cars to the world's fair site, and to avoid possible congestion in the handling of the cars after they have reached St. Louis.

The world's fair management has devoted more than ordinary attention to the preparation for the handling of cars, and the arrangements are now completed. Adequate railroad facilities are ready, the warehouses have all been erected, and all the buildings are in such state of completion that installation of exhibits can be commenced immediately.

What the management now most ardently desires is the prompt shipment of exhibits from the different parts of the country, to begin immediately. Otherwise, if there be delay, congestion in traffic handling after St. Louis is reached is almost an assured condition.

It is estimated that from 25,000 to 30,000 cars of domestic exhibits will reach St. Louis during the last of March and the first of April. As the world's fair opens on April 30, it is stated, it will be difficult to handle this enormous influx of freight traffic at the last moment. Already foreign exhibits are en route upon the water and foreign countries are concentrating their endeavors to have their exhibit shipments arrive early, to secure prompt handling and delivery at the world's fair grounds; enabling more deliberation and thoroughness in the installation in the buildings.

It is most ardently urged by the management of the fair that domestic exhibitors take heed of the importance of immediate shipments, and commence forwarding cars without further delay, thereby enabling prompt and efficient service in delivery to the exposition site and avoiding the congestion that is said to be certain to occur if shipments are delayed until the last moment prior to the opening of the exposition.

FIRE LOSSES.

Owatonna, Minn., Jan. 25.—The north and central wings of the state school for indigent children were gutted by fire to day. All inmates were taken out unharmed. The fire broke out in the roof of the central part of the main building. Other wings and the children's dining room and kitchen were saved. No estimate of the loss is made.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock to night the fire department of Chicago was called upon to fight sixty-three separate fires. The majority of them resulted from overheated furnaces.

The largest fire of the day was that which completely destroyed the dry goods store of Johnson Brothers on Milwaukee avenue, entailing a loss of $80,000. At another fire several firemen were injured by falling icy ladders and one seriously hurt in a collision between fire trucks.

THREATEN TO BLOW UP HOMES.

Moline, Ill., Jan. 25.—Harry Answorth, secretary of Williams, White & Co., to day received an anonymous letter threatening to blow up the homes of all Moline foundry owners unless a molders strike now on is settled. The letter was written awkwardly on a typewriter, postmarked Davenport, Iowa, and signed "Dynamite." A postscript read: "If you care to answer, this letter address M. 36 Sixty-first street, Chicago." While the manufacturer are threatened are inclined to regard the letter as a hoax, the police have been advised of its receipt.

BASE BALL MAGNATES.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Adoption of a new constitution was the chief result of the meeting in Chicago to day of base ball magnates of the American Association. Umpires were not selected, but will be appointed by President Grillo. The schedule of games to be adopted March 7 will provide for 154 contests. The board of directors will consist of George Lennon, St. Paul; T. J. Bryce, Louisville; George Teague, Toledo; W. H. Watkins, Minneapolis; C. E. Haveron, Milwaukee.

WHOLE NORTH-WEST SUFFERS

COLE WEATHER PREVAILS EVERY WHERE

Thermometer Reached Fifteen Below In Chicago Monday—Traffic of All Kinds More or Less Delayed.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Piercing cold made the whole northwest suffer to day. The thermometer reached 15 below in Chicago, the lowest for the season. An unidentified man frozen stiff was found by pedestrians on an outlying street and there were countless instances of frozen cars and hands. Traffic was greatly hampered.

Stretching to the northwest and west the mercury shows a swiftly descending scale, the minimum being at Bismarck and Williston, N. D., where official figures are 31 below zero. Throughout Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and other western states thermometers range from zero to 30 below and indications are severe cold will last another twenty-four hours.

Snow flurries are reported in the southwest, a blizzard prevailing at St. Louis. A severe snow storm is raging with the thermometer 5 below in central Illinois.

Traffic of all kinds is more or less delayed and in cities there is much suffering among the poor. Several deaths in a severe blizzard raging at Winnipeg, Man., are reported.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 25.—Practically all Nebraska is experiencing the coldest weather of the winter and there is no immediate prospect of a change. Beginning with 11 below in Lincoln at daylight the highest reached during the day was 6 below, and to night the mercury is slipping down again, with chances favoring a new low record by to morrow. From all sections of the state come reports of the lowest temperature for years and much suffering by man and beast.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 25.—Thermometers at Pokagama Dam, near Grand Rapids, marked 57 below zero this morning. At Hibbing it was 42 below and at Tower, Minn., 30 below. At Sioux City, Iowa, Jan. 25.—No relief from the cold wave in this section. Twenty below was the minimum to day.

WAR NEWS

Tokio, Jan. 25.—Takushimi, Japanese interpreter for the Russian attaché, was arrested Sunday on suspicion of acting as a spy in the Yokosuka fortified zone. He has been taken to Yokohama for trial.

London, Jan. 25.—The Tokio correspondent of the Telegraph sends the following: "The official gazette publishes an imperial ordinance empowering the government to assume control of all private railways, etc., for military purposes. The situation is very grave and developments are hourly expected."

Pekin, Jan. 25.—Chinese authorities have approached ministers here of several powers, with proposals directed toward attempting mediation with Russia and Japan. China is exceedingly anxious that war should be avoided.

The American government is arranging to dispatch senior student interpreters here to Mukden, Port Dalney and Antung to act as American vice consuls. Advice received here from Port Arthur are that Russian troops are moving from that point toward the Korean frontier.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The state department has received a cablegram from Mr. Tower, ambassador at Berlin, saying that in official circles there belief is strong Russia and Japan will arrive at peaceful arrangement of their difficulties.

THE LOVE FEAST

Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat. Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—The Republican "love feast" which is to be held here next Wednesday promises to be the largest assemblage of party leaders of the whole year in Illinois, with the exception of the state and national conventions. A half a dozen candidates for governor will be here, each endeavoring to make an imposing show of strength and popularity.

Hundreds of men ranked as local leaders will come to the capital to help "boost" their favorite, or perchance, to discover the probable winner. Several aspirants for other state offices will be here, either to announce their candidacies or to seek new friends and alliances.

A United States senator, recently suspected of having designs on the vice presidential nomination, will be present to supply an additional topic for speculation.

The particular matter of business connected with the occasion will be the meeting of the state central committee to fix the time and place of holding the next state convention. That, however, is a formal matter, to which most persons, including the candidates themselves, will pay but little attention. The place will be Springfield and the date will probably be early in May, though as to the date there is apparently complete indifference among those who might be supposed to be directly interested.

The committee meeting proper will be altogether overshadowed by the big meeting in which there is to be a flood of oratory and in which each of the gubernatorial candidates will seek vigilantly every possible advantage.

The "love feast" in recent years has come to be almost everything except what its name would fairly imply. The name, in fact, is quite misleading; it is a survival of the ancient and somewhat legendary days of perfect party peace, and has quite lost the significance originally attached to it. Four years ago the gathering which bore the name surpassed, in popular interest and in genuine importance, all previous "love feasts."

In the preceding months reaching back into the summer, politicians had been guessing about John R. Tanner, who was nearing the last year of his term as governor. Would he, in the face of the relentless war which Chicago newspapers had made on him, be a candidate for a second nomination? Would he openly break with Senator Cullom, with whom he had been associated in politics for so many years? Would he be a candidate for Cullom's seat in the senate? To these questions Governor Tanner made no reply. Even his intimate friends, with whom he was accustomed to talk politics by the hour, were kept in the dark as to his intentions until the very eve of the "love feast," when he called a couple of hundred of his followers into the senate chamber and made a speech, full of dramatic interest, in which he announced that he was not a candidate for governor. At the "love feast" the next day he made another speech, which in some respects, was the greatest of his life.

After that day Tanner and Cullom were enemies, and what followed is familiar history. The "love feast," instead of being an instrument of harmony, was the opening skirmish of a factional war more bitter than any similar strife which the party had witnessed in an entire generation.

Of course the "love feast" was not the cause of the fight, which was destined to occur anyhow; but that it should furnish the occasion for its beginning illustrated the grotesqueness of the name. The event of the ensuing week is likely to bring out the same point; for, while it does not start a fight, there is no probability that it will end one or contribute anything to harmonize factional differences. That it will have any effect at all upon the final outcome of the gubernatorial contest is quite doubtful. The gathering will be made up largely of enthusiastic shouters; the county primaries and conventions which are to decide results are yet to be held. Carroll county furnishes an example of what may be expected to occur in many other counties of the state. The county committee, which the friends of Governor Tanner said to control, has decided to submit the gubernatorial question to a primary election, which is to be held Feb. 13. Colonel Lowden's supporters are said to have opposed the plan and the date, and to be threatening to hold a mass meeting for the selection of a county delegation favorable to their candidate. If this plan is carried out, two delegations will go to the state convention from that county, and the convention will be the judge of the credentials presented. In many counties having a dissatisfied, belligerent minority on the committee two conventions will be held and two sets of delegates chosen. This appears inevitable, owing to the universal conditions that exist this year.

Unfortunately it too often happens, as past experience has shown, that when delegate contests come up to the state convention the equities of the case receive but scant consideration, the delegation being seated which is for the candidate or faction favored by the majority of the credentials committee.

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice-Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars, of Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicine and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly, and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverance for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine."

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced."—Mrs. IBA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass., Worthy Vice-Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Thus contests are often made because the contestants act on the theory that they have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Yet and unwarranted contest always produces a bad effect, perhaps creating a party schism which it will take destined to occur anyhow; but that years to obliterate, and which will constantly menace the success of the party ticket. The wise party leader, even where he perceives what he thinks is a temporary advantage, will not advise a contest unless it is founded on the most obvious justice.

The mention of Senator Hopkins as a vice presidential possibility grew out of the distribution recently of several hundred lithographs of the junior senator. The pictures, it is explained, were gotten out merely to meet the demands of party clubs and the senator's friends. There is no probability that Senator Hopkins has any notion of seeking the vice presidency. He has fully as good reason as "Uncle Joe" Cannon has for discouraging that sort of talk; for he is just at the beginning of his senatorial career, which, barring possible political reverses, should be good for twelve or eighteen years. This, to a man of Senator Hopkins' years, temperament and ambition, should be far more attractive than four years of the vice presidency. J. C. McD.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

How the Housekeeper These Days Can Fill Out Her Tableware.

The wise housekeeper appreciates the effort of the shopkeeper and the manufacturer to help her out in the matter of "those careless servants." "Open stock" affords a careful buyer the opportunity of buying en suite just the special dishes she may need for her special menage. The old fashion of "set" china left no recourse but the everyday cupboard for the handsome set which had been partially destroyed through the casualties of the kitchen. Furthermore, the old fashion gave one a dozen of everything where possibly half a dozen was ample for the housekeeper's needs. The open stock has worked an all round reform in the matter of buying; too, for the shopkeeper has on hand for your selection a much more complete line in the matter of size than once he would have provided had the set been sold entire.

Teapots, chocolate pots, sugar bowls and creamers of any size almost are available, and if the necessity should arise the smaller size may be immediately replaced by one more adequate.

These open sets are very desirable coming in delightful reproductions of old English patterns, satisfactory both in point of form and decoration.

THE UNLACED SISTERHOOD

Englishmen Urged to Choose Wives Who Abjure Corsets.

Physical culturists in Leeds, England, have determined to wage war against corsets, says the foreign correspondent of the Philadelphia Press. The lady members of the Leeds Society of Physical Culture have already abjured the evil things, and now the young men are called upon to have nothing whatever to say to "corset wrecks" unless it may be to tell them of the error of their ways and advise them to seek the paths which lead to muscle development and natural waists.

The reason urged for this attitude is that corset wearing, even with only moderately tight lacing, is conducive to enfeebled health. Corset wearing, say the culturists, is evil and only evil. It crushes the vital organs, weakens digestion and destroys the lines of natural beauty, setting up in their place a false ideal, as seen in the fashionable wasp waist.

The appeal is made principally to unmarried men. They have yet, it may be, to make their choice of a partner and can, if they will, make "no corsets" a condition of matrimony. The position of the married men is more difficult, and they are only expected to wage war gently by trying to persuade their wives to refrain from corset wearing, or, if that is unattainable, to lead them to lace loosely. The daughters of members of the society of course are to be brought up corsetless.

A LOVER'S MISTAKE.

How a Father Outwitted the Plans of Two Young People.

With the supposed form of his sweetheart in his arms, Eddie C. Rowley, a Baltimore and Ohio railroad telegraph operator, descended a ten foot ladder from a window at the home of James Hagerty in Farmington, O., the other morning, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. When terra firma was reached, instead of a lover's kiss he faced a loaded revolver in the hands of an irate father.

In company with Miss Dayton young Rowley cautiously proceeded to the Hagerty residence, and Miss Dayton placed a ladder to the girl's window. Young Rowley mounted to the window and, taking the form, heavily wrapped in a cloak, started to descend the ladder. The prospective groom was radiantly happy for only a short period.

As they were reaching the ground the cloak was thrown off and the father of the girl, with pistol in hand, stood before the frightened lover, who took to his heels, with his companion, and nothing has since been heard of the pair. Hagerty had been apprised of the scheme and succeeded in outwitting the plans of the lovers.

A Train Without Rails.

A recent copy of the Paris Matin contains some particulars of a new invention which if it bears the test of experience may have some considerable effect upon the locomotion of the future, says the London Times. It is nothing less than a train without rails invented by Colonel Renard, director of the military park at Chalons-Meudon, but as he refuses at present to discuss his invention there are few details available. It appears, however, that he has constructed a train of thirty tons to test the practicability of his idea. With this train private experiments have been made which are said to be sufficient to inspire confidence. It is stated that by this novel mode of traction passengers, goods and merchandise can be conveyed to different parts of the country where there are no railway lines, while in time of war it is thought that it will be invaluable.

DON'T WORRY.

This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used. For sale by all druggists.

THE "LOVE FEAST" AT SPRINGFIELD, JAN. 27.

In the morning one speaker will be heard from each of the twenty-five congressional districts.

In the afternoon all the candidates for governor will speak (after the two senators, if present), and other candidates will follow. Seats are free. The auditorium will hold 10,000 people and is well heated.

A special train over the Wabash has been arranged for on a guarantee by some of the supporters of Governor Yates, who have also engaged the Jeffries Concert band to enliven the occasion with their excellent music.

Train leaves at 7:45 and returns after all the program is completed. Fare for the round trip 50 cents.

Everybody welcome to go on this train.

D. A. R. NOTICE.

The James Caldwell chapter, D. A. R., will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. T. Wilson on West State street. It is earnestly hoped that there will be a full attendance of members, as plans will be made for the visit of the chapter in Springfield Feb. 12.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY.

Large audiences were present at the services on Sunday and three added to the church with baptisms in the evening. The pastor is preaching morning sermons preparatory to the coming Seville meetings. Committees are being appointed. Dr. Seville held the largest meeting ever conducted among the Disciples of Christ. It was held in Des Moines, Iowa, and resulted in 1,102 additions to the church.

FIRE ALARM.

The fire department was called to the residence of Francis Neissen on South Main street about 9 o'clock Monday morning, where a chimney was on fire. No damage resulted and the services of the department were not needed.

GRAND TO NIGHT.

Mr. Henry W. Savage's "Prince of Pilsen," the Pixley & Luders musical comedy that kept all New York in an uproar of good humor for quite five months, began its western tour across the continent in August. A four weeks' run in Chicago, closing on Aug. 29th, was the second that the "Prince of Pilsen" had in that city, the first being for four months, during both of which house records were broken. The splendid production will be seen at the Grand to night with an entire organization, the same as was seen in the east.

ANOTHER STREET CAR CASE.

In Squire Arenz' court yesterday the case of L. B. Turner against the Jacksonville street railway was heard and was given to the jury at 6:30 in the evening. This is another suit with reference to alleged insufficiency of the street car vestibules. Judge Kirby, Judge Barnes and Mr. Bellatti appeared for the railway. State's Attorney Smith and Mr. Priest for the people. After the jury had considered the evidence for a short time court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary Saturday evening with fifty of their friends and relatives as guests. There were various games to play and much of the time was spent socially. Many beautiful china presents were received and excellent refreshments were served. The guests were unanimous in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Williams many more anniversaries.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO THE "LOVE FEAST" AT SPRINGFIELD.

A special train will leave Jacksonville at 7:45 Wednesday morning, Jan. 27th, for Springfield, returning in the evening after the exercises at the "Love Feast." The fare will be 50 cents for the round trip. Tickets can be purchased Monday and Tuesday at F. G. Farrell & Co.'s, Dunlap, Russell & Co. and Jacksonville National bank.

"THE CAVALIER"

Patriotism, fervent romance and vitality in action are the magnetic qualities of "The Cavalier." It is a drama that appeals to the heart. Those who have read George W. Cable's novel may come to see "The Cavalier" for the first time with their critical lances sharpened, ready to hurl them at the first vulnerable gap that they can detect between the joints of the dramatic armor, but they find no tangible opening, and those who have not read the novel suspect no omissions, for the continuity of action is so closely preserved that nothing vital to the story is left to the imagination. Every incident necessary to the sustaining of a vigorous, exciting and complete drama is pictured. There is no hiatus to cause misunderstanding, for the interest obtained at the beginning is held rigidly throughout, winning is rigidly held until the final curtain. It will be presented at the Grand opera house Wednesday, Jan. 27.

THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

HOUSE-COMPTON.

Mr. Byron House and Miss Hazel Compton, both of Jacksonville, were married in Springfield at 8 o'clock Saturday evening by Rev. J. E. Lynn, pastor of the East Side Christian church. The ceremony came as a surprise to the numerous friends of the young people here, as no intimation had been given that the wedding was so near at hand. The bride's parents are residents of Nankin, but she has lived in Jacksonville for several years and a charming spirit and personality have endeared her to many. Mr. House is a employee in the news room of the Journal and has the confidence and friendship of all who know him. The young people are to begin housekeeping at 914 South Main street and certainly commence their married life very happily.

JACOBS-CRESS.

Benjamin Jacobs of St. Louis and Miss Maude Cress, of Paducah, Ky., were married Monday by Esquire Gray at his office in the Callahan block. There were only a few witnesses to the ceremony.

A DAUGHTER.

Henry Evert living on West North street is the happy parent of a fine daughter, and now a neighbor informs the Journal that he has frequently heard Henry singing: "My baby's coming, Daddy's gone a-hunting To get a pretty rabbit skin To tuck the little baby in."

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

An Early Breakfast.
After a strenuous journey through Hart county, during which he rode many miles in a buggy, Special Pension Examiner E. S. McIntyre has returned with a story illustrating the courtesy of Kentucky farmers.

After dark one night Colonel McIntyre drove up to a farmhouse and after pounding on the door with his buggy whip, finally aroused the farmer, who had been sleeping.

"Can I get a bed and an early breakfast?" he asked.

"Yes, we can give you a bed and I reckon an early breakfast too."

All hands went to sleep but Colonel McIntyre.

He had some papers to look over and at midnight turned in. In what seemed to him ten minutes after he had gone to sleep he was awakened by a knocking on the door. He reached for his trusty weapon, at the same time wondering what burglars were doing abroad among the farms of Hart county.

"Get up in there!" a voice shouted.

"It's gitin' up time. Your breakfast is ready."

Colonel McIntyre arose in the dark, slowly dressed and came into the breakfast room.

"What time is it?" he asked.

"It's about 2 o'clock, I reckon."

"Well, what the thunder do you mean by waking me at 2 o'clock?"

"Didn't you say you wanted an early breakfast?" said the farmer, with deep concern.

Colonel McIntyre ate his breakfast in silence.—Louisville Herald.

ROAD TO BE BUILT

Statement That Rock Island Extension is ago—Will Use Alton Bridge.

The Sentinel-Democrat of Alton announces that the proposed extension of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad from Burlington to St. Louis is a sure go and that construction work is to commence at once. It has been understood that the construction of the new line depends upon the authorization of a new bond issue of the company by its shareholders at a meeting to be held in March. All interests represented among the shareholders are said to favor the bond issue, and it is possible the company is so certain of the action of the shareholders that their action is to be discounted, as it was in the matter of the survey and construction work be commenced as soon as the weather will permit.

"As foreshown months ago by the Sentinel-Democrat, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, better known as the Rock Island system, will enter Alton and usurp Alton bridge, which since the Burlington left the first of 1903 has been practically abandoned—except for the bridge accommodation train between Alton and West Alton.

"The surveying into Alton was yesterday afternoon completed by the corps of twelve surveyors, who arrived in Alton and are stopping at the Piasa hotel. One of their number, when interviewed to day, admitted that the road was coming into Alton and work of construction would start immediately, the track building to be accomplished by several different sets of men stationed at various divisions along the route that has been surveyed and outlined.

"The surveyors, who are gathered from all parts of the country, by the Rock Island and put to work in unison on this one purpose, are a set of experts that have held positions for the Rock Island in Texas and many miles from here. They were hurriedly called together and the corps of twelve was mustered to work on this special world's fair connection of the big system.

"In this culmination of work that has long since been suspected there appears the fruitful result of clever railroad engineering on the part of the officials of the road. As is known the Burlington some time ago left the Alton bridge as the bridge owners would not come down to their rental figure. Since then the C. B. & Q. has lost considerable business, but as the bridge owners hold the rental too high to permit of the Burlington making any large profits, the railroad company could not feel justified in running their train into Alton. Therefore after Jan. 1, 1903, trains were withdrawn and since then the bridge had been virtually idle and losing heavily to its possessors.

"As is generally conceded the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific is a sister line of the Burlington, which is also part of the great Rock Island system of railroads. When the Burlington left the Alton bridge and could not afford to return profitably after the important entrance to St. Louis and passageway over the mighty Father of Waters. It is understood the Rock Island got a lower figure than the C. B. & Q. for rental, as the bridge owners and the Burlington men had quarreled so much that the bridge people didn't care much to rent that company the passageway anyway. The Rock Island, it is understood, was successful in renting the bridge and then began the surveying work for the extension of their line into Alton. The two railroads being quite identical the point the Rock Island scored in getting the bridge was a double one, and will benefit handsomely both the Burlington and the Rock Island, as the Burlington tracks can be connected with at West Alton.

"The new route, one of the surveying party to day informed the Sentinel-Democrat, commences at Burlington, Iowa, where connection was made with the Rock Island regular system. From Burlington the line runs to Carmi, Ill., to Sciota, Macomb, Industry, Rushville, Beards-town, Arenzville, Jacksonville, Scottville, Medora, Brighton, Fosterburg and East Alton, which place the surveyors reached yesterday.

"From East Alton the road will come in and take the Alton bridge and then, connecting with the Burlington tracks at the latter place, will have completed a most valuable 'coup' for the world's fair business."

UNION MEETINGS

A Crowded House Sunday Afternoon and Evening—Good Interest Manifest

A large audience gathered Sunday afternoon at the special services for young people. Every seat in the audience room was filled. It was indeed an inspiring company of young people. The glee club of the Woman's college were present and sang one of their best selections, which was greatly appreciated. Another musical feature were the two solos by Professor Butts. During the fore part of the meeting he sang "Face to Face" and near the close he sang "Building for Eternity."

The singing of Professor Butts is accompanied with a spirit of earnestness that carries his song to the hearts of his hearers. The words are given clearly and distinctly, bearing the Gospel message to those who listen.

Mr. Jordan spoke on the examples before the youth of what can be done by consecrated, devoted young people. He gave examples of many who have achieved success while comparatively young.

He spoke of Calvin, who had written his noted "Theological Institutes" while under 25 years of age; of Spurgeon, who at this age was speaking to larger audiences than any other minister in London. He told his hearers that they must not think, because they were not old in experience, that they could not do something for the uplifting of humanity.

He said that God wants the strength of youth, that He might add His strength to it. That God wanted the strength of youth that He may make the weak places strong. And that God wants the fervor and enthusiasm of youth that He may infuse it with pentecostal power for the salvation of humanity. "The youth," said he, "have some way gotten into the fashion of being on fire in their sports and social engagements; but, when they enter the church, they pour on water and put out all the fire." What was wanted was the fire of youth consecrated to God.

So great an interest was shown in this meeting that another will be held soon, possibly at the same hour next Sunday.

Sunday night the church was crowded to its full capacity and some were compelled to stand.

At this service Professor Butts sang "Does Jesus Care?" It is noticeable how quietly and earnestly the audience listen to catch every word that falls from the lips of this true Gospel singer.

Rev. C. G. Jordan spoke from Gen. iv:35. Among the many things of the sermon some fragments are presented:

Man is body, mind and spirit. God is mind and spirit. Mind enlivens mind; mind quickens mind. Pharaoh knew not God, but he became an instrument in the hands of God. God made known to him a revelation clothed in a mystery. This mystery was cleared by a young man, a young man whom God had kept through shadow and cloud.

God said: "Lay by in store against the time of famine." This idea was given to Joseph and from Joseph to Pharaoh.

Lay away material things. This is an idea from God. It is God's thought; a thought given out years ago; a thought to be given out now in these years of gathering. In the days of strength we should lay away the good things, not as a miser, but to be used sometime in a future hour of need. A sad thing indeed is age and weakness going "Over the hills to the poor house."

If it were not for the gold hid away in the mountains there would have been no ships to carry the missionaries to the ends of the earth. If somebody had not gathered Livingstone could not have gone to "darkest Africa."

We should gather strength of body. Touch not, taste not, handle not anything that will weaken the body, but keep it strong and true for God. There are young men who are actually blowing out their brains with cigarettes.

And with all your getting get understanding. Everything was first a thought and then a thing. This is true from a point of law to a point of a pin. But it is possible to gather the knowledge of the world and not gather the knowledge of God. If we neglect that knowledge we are ignorant.

Laying up wealth, for what? Laying up strength, but for whom? For yourself or for God? Laying up ideas, but are you storing the kingdom of God? Seek ye first the kingdom. May you find manhood and holiness, which is salvation.

MONDAY NIGHT.

In spite of the very cold weather quite a large number were in attendance at the meeting last night. Rev. Charles G. Jordan spoke from the text, "Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter; for thy heart is not right with God." There are men in this world who cannot be bought. There are things so united to the heart that they cannot be bought. Some men can be bought, some places can be purchased, but the spirit of God cannot be bought.

The spirit is given only to him whose heart is right with God. Are our hearts right? Let us look at ourselves. Let us know if our lives are self-centered or centered in Christ? Is the heart right with God?

The speaker by a series of questions and convicting arguments sketched the mistakes men are making. Then he pointed them to the right way of life. The great question of his whole discourse was the one searching query, "Is your heart right with God?"

At the close of this sermon Professor Butts sang "Is thy heart right with God?" Thus the searching question was pushed still further upon the consciences of the listeners. As a result this meeting was the most spiritual of any yet held during the revival services.

There is a great law called compensation. Those who had pushed through the severe storm to attend the evening service felt amply compensated for having come to the meeting.

Meetings to day at 3 and 7:30 p. m. Meetings at the same hours to morrow. Thursday being the day of prayer for schools and colleges, a meeting for parents will be held at 10:30. Meeting at 3 p. m. and again at night. The evening service will be in the interest of the young people.

At 4 p. m. Friday a meeting will be held for the children. No doubt there will be a large number of the children present at this meeting. It is their service and should receive their special interest.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

Arthur J. Love a brakeman on a Wabash freight train, while switching in the yards at Bluffs, slipped and fell under the moving cars receiving injuries from which he died an hour later at the Passavant Hospital in this city. The accident occurred about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning and in an unconscious condition he was brought to this city and taken to Passavant hospital.

Dr. Haigrove was called but Love's condition was such that his death was only a question of a few moments and he died at 12:30. He had fallen under the train in such a manner that his left elbow was badly crushed and the left leg from the hip to the knee was laid open and fearfully crushed. His right leg from hip to the ankle was badly bruised and his right foot was mangled.

Coroner Reynolds took charge of the remains and had them removed to Anderson's undertaking rooms.

The deceased was a brakeman on extra freight No. 380, east bound to Springfield and he had been employed on this road about four months with headquarters at Springfield where he resided at 905 South Ninth street.

He was a young man about twenty-eight years of age. His parents resided in Seymour, Ind., and he has a sister, Helen, living in Indianapolis. He was a member of the Lackawanna Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Elmira, N. Y. and also had on his person a card of membership in the Y. M. C. A. at Decatur. Coroner Reynolds, unable to obtain the necessary witnesses Monday postponed the inquest until today. The remains will be sent to the home of the young man's parents in Seymour, Ind.

AT ODEON HALL.

The Correll & Headen Vaudeville Co. gave an entertainment in Odeon hall Wednesday evening which was witnessed by a fair sized audience. The program was of a character that pleased and there are some really high class artists among the performers. Little need be said in praise of Frank Kirk, as he is recognized as an especially strong foot light artist and he has held positions with some of the best extravaganza companies in the country.

The overture by F. L. Tylee and the illustrated songs by the same gentleman were pleasant features of the entertainment. Messrs. Correll & Headen certainly have gathered together a splendid company of entertainers and they should meet with success, as they present a program of fascinating interest and varied character. The program last night was as follows:

Overture by F. L. Tylee; Prof. Johnnie C. Warring, baton gun and fire baton spinner; John R. Noon, plantation specialties; Edward Lukomeyer in his gymnasium feats; F. L. Tylee, illustrated songs, etc.; Frank Kirk, the original tramp musical acrobat; Prof. Ben Thompson, the human snake; J. R. Noon, singing and talking comedian; moving pictures.

A DAY WITH ELIJAH III.

What an Editor Thinks of Dowie and Zion City.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES IMPRESSIVE.

Fred Leroy of Streator, Ill., Says Dowie's Life Work is a Wonderful Business Enterprise and That He is Not a Mountebank or Rascal. Zion City a Desirable Place to Live In—No Card Playing on Zion Trains.

Mr. Fred Leroy, editor of the Streator (Ill.) Independent Times, who recently spent a Sunday in Zion City and heard John Alexander Dowie preach, gives in his paper the following impressions:

The trip is an interesting one in many respects, and no matter how much prejudice one may have against the scheme there is plenty to see and hear to make a day of general interest. The excursion trains leave Chicago at about 11:30. The distance is forty miles along a smooth piece of track as there is in the country, and there is no time lost, the train going through without any stops. When you pay your fare you get the first inkling of Dowie's ability. The round trip distance is eighty miles and the fare 30 cents, probably the cheapest rate on any railroad in the country.

Arriving at Zion City, the depot presents another wonder. It is a fine large depot, the main waiting room covering a space probably 50 by 80 feet. Only one room is required, as there is no tobacco allowed in the town, and the place is so clean that lace curtains are hung on every window, probably the only depot in the United States of which this can be said or where it could be done. In one corner of the waiting room is a fine display of lace curtains which on week days are managed by some person for commercial profit.

Another marked feature of the excursion train is the fact that no use of tobacco, whisky, card playing or flirting is allowed. Zion guards are on the train and watch it very closely. Of the 181 on the train the conductor estimated that 100 were going from curiosity and the other eighty-one were members of the faith. Sometimes among the curiosity seekers will be found those who rebel at the rules. The conductor spoke of one case he had when several young fellows started playing cards. A Zion guard asked them to stop. They refused, stating that no d—Dowieite could stop them. The guard sent for the conductor. He sized the men up, their defiant attitude, and then said: "Boys, the rule on this train is that no card playing is allowed. The company expects me to enforce this. Now, I make it as a request, but if you insist on playing cards, rather than have a fight or any trouble, I shall let you continue."

One of the men replied, "Well, we will stop for you, but we wouldn't stop for that d—Dowieite." Arriving at Zion City at about noon, the crowd went to the hotel, a 320 room structure, where a straight meal was served for 25 cents. Everything was neat and clean, and one could feel that he had no fear from that regard; in fact, situated on the lake, this is one feature of Zion City that commends itself, and this, coupled with regulations of a moral nature, in many respects makes it a desirable place to live in and bring up a family.

At 2 o'clock the service begins at the tabernacle. Reporters are not allowed in the building, and if one should pull out his book and make notes the announcement is made by the "deacons," and he is summarily dismissed from the room. At the hotel we were informed we would have to go early to get a seat. They probably banked on a big excursion, but such was not the case. The tabernacle holds over 7,000 people. It has one gallery extending around the entire building, and in the back part is a third gallery. We should judge there were about 5,000 people in the audience.

The services are impressive. Mr. Dowie drives up from his elegant mansion in a fine coach drawn by two very elegant graying horses. He is met at the back door of the church by about fifty guards, among whom we noticed one Japanese, a bright looking fellow. This guard and the choir then march down the side aisles of the first floor to the rear of the church, and as they start to come up the aisle the 500 voices break out in song. In the balcony is a large organ. A gentleman lends them, and the situation is one of much pomp, all members of the choir being dressed in white surplices and ranging in years from youth to old age. It is an impressive sight. As they walk to their seats, occupying the entire front, Elijah III. makes his appearance on the stage. He dresses in long, flowing robes of white and black, relieved by surplices of purple and yellow, and with his long white beard one can shut his eyes and imagine very easily that he is a patriarch of the Bible; at least, if not, his appearance is not against it.

As a preacher Dowie is a failure to all except those who believe in him. He has a raspy voice, a pompous air, delivers a disconnected sermon, becomes extremely radical at times of festivity, so, and yet what he is at the present time a wonderful success and one of the world's prominent men. In his reference to politics he branded the Democrats as not fit to exist and called, on the mercy of God for any man foolish enough to vote the Democratic ticket. He exhortated the Republicans to some extent, saying that he had no faith in the Republican party either, except so far as the spirit of Zion can permeate it, claiming the theocratic party is the only one founded on a rock. But as he does the dictating and thinking one cannot connect theocracy with Dowieism. He became the fact that he was not now strong enough to control politics, but predicted the time would come when he would be, and his crowd of followers clapped their hands in pleasure at the contemplation. He is a radical of the radicals, seeing only the defects in that which does not conform to his faith, overlooking the good, and his large church following, apparently to an outsider, put up their thumbs when he says "Thumbs up!" and down when he says "Thumbs down!"

To analyze his success and influence one would have to spend more time and come into a fuller knowledge and acquaintance with the man. One's impression would be—a man of considerable force, a great worker, a fighter by nature, with the natural pugnacity and stick-to-it-iveness, of a Scotchman, a man of strong will. But his people are intelligent. Many are bright, brainy men and women—people who would not be caught by a rascal—and in our opinion Dowie is no mountebank, no rascal. He believes in his work, and its moral side has the foundation for its success.

Just think of it! One man in a few years has established a new church, a new faith; built a town of 10,000 people; attracted people from all parts of the world; has missionaries in many countries making converts! From these he gets 10 per cent of their wages in tithes, and of those in Zion City all the property they possessed in the world has been transferred to Dowie. I asked a deacon what was an average collection. He replied he did not know; only the overseer could tell. There are seven overseers who divide all the business and ecclesiastical responsibility, and Dowie is general overseer over all. He has made a will, and in this will all his possessions will be given to another overseer, who is named by him in the will. Many people have predicted that he is only feathering his nest and when rich enough will leave his followers in the lurch. This sounds ridiculous. Here is a great life work, which in a few years more will demonstrate whether it is to be a success or failure. It is a wonderful business enterprise. Dowie is an old man. All the pride of his life must be centered in his work. There is no more danger of his running away from such an enterprise than there is chance of perpetual motion being made a success. It is not in the nature of things.

But will it be a success? Two years should demonstrate this. At the present time the city cannot be self supporting. Not enough labor is being put in factories to bring the money from the outside world, and those there cannot continue to live on each other. From a business standpoint the city probably practices the greatest economy of any in the world. One department store supplies all wants. In an average city of 10,000 dozens of store-rooms and hundreds of clerks are required. Here it is all done away with. No money is spent in luxuries. Yet without it is only an experiment, and undoubtedly it will take the tithes from members in the outside world to sustain it for some time to come. Missionaries are building up the faith in many countries, and the big organization may break all past records and be a success. But will it? If it collapses, those who have their money invested will be in an extremely bad shape.

A large share of the business is done by coupon books of $5 and $10 value. These books are accepted the same as cash, as they are redeemable at the bank in cash. But lately, since the financial trouble, the bank has refused to redeem them until later. I asked an intelligent boy if the people believe it would be a success. He replied that all who were not hypocrites did. One can easily imagine how unpleasant it would be in Zion City for a person who should lose faith. He would be classed as a hypocrite, which would taboo him more than a scab would be in a labor organization, for nothing is as strong as religious fanaticism.

Zion City is an ideal location for a town site. Close to the lake, it gets the cool breeze. Clean and clear is the atmosphere. It covers a territory of probably thirty miles square, large enough to make a city of 100,000 inhabitants. With great financial shrewdness, he has sold in his 1,000 year lease plan lots around the outside, and the inside is becoming more valuable every day. If with the influx of people, bringing their savings, and the tithes of converts this town can be sustained for the next two years it may be on a financial paying basis. If this should occur the movement would be so well organized it wouldn't stop, and a new church and a new faith will have been established, and if carried to an extreme an autocratic government would be established in this country where the general overseer could dictate with as high a hand and as great a power as the czar of Russia. And to the writer therein eventually lies its greatest weakness. The people of this country by principle and precept are educated to do their own thinking and be their own dictators. The principle is too deeply planted to be uprooted by the fervor of a new religious faith.

Railway Cars Built as Educators. Four new Illinois Central suburban passenger cars have been built to correct the manners of passengers, says the Chicago Tribune. This is the statement, at least, of the official of the road to whom a passenger complained of the uncomfortable backs to the seats. "They were built that way," the official explained, "to keep people from groaning, which spoils the aesthetic effect of the crowded car." Care was taken, also, the official added, to make the spaces between seats wide enough to "keep rude men from putting their feet on the seats in front of them."

PENSION LAW RESULTS.

Figures Show That Cost of Service Bill Would Be Heavy.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The effort to pension every surviving Union soldier of the civil war continues. It began soon after the war was over. The promoters of the plan are seemingly never discouraged, although their various bills for that purpose have again and again failed in congress. Another measure in that behalf has just been introduced. It proposes to give $12 per month to every Union soldier who served ninety days in the civil war, but not until after he has reached 62 years of age. Within three or four years this age limit will have run and let in the last survivor. The pension is also to go to the soldier's widow if they were legally married prior to 1890. The bill is said to meet the very general approval of the old soldiers. The soldiers of long service grumble because those who served only ninety days are put upon an equality with themselves.

NUMBER ON THE ROLLS. This proposal revives interest in the ever-present question of how many of these soldiers still survive. Throughout the four years' period of the war 2,778,291 men approximately were borne on the army and navy rolls. Deducting seamen and marines, 105,982, leaves a superficial total of 2,672,341. But this number includes thousands of men counted twice and some of them even three times. Soldiers under President Lincoln's three months' call afterward enlisted in the three years' service and when that term verged to its close they re-enlisted as "veteran volunteers." Each is carried as a separate enlistment and counts as three men in the above grand aggregate of Union soldiers. Good authorities estimate the number of such re-enlistments at 550,000, in round numbers, but no official compilation of them has ever been issued. Deducting these, leaves 2,122,341 as the number of individual soldiers who served during the war. This, of course, includes officers. There were three months' men, six months' men, nine months' men, twelve months' men, two years' men and three years' men. All these classes, however, come within the scope of the pension laws.

NUMBER OF SURVIVORS. Deducting deaths and deserters, 476,775, leaves 1,645,566 as the apparent number of survivors at the close of the war. But there is still another offset. The military authorities believe that enormous frauds in the state enrollments to fill out quotas under the various calls and drafts for troops, professional bounty jumping, etc., foisted upon the rolls at least 150,000 fictitious names of persons who never served a day. This reduces the approximate total of survivors at the close of the war to 1,495,460. How many of these individual soldiers survive now, after a lapse of nearly forty years? Many, many more than most people suppose.

REDUCTION ESTIMATE. In 1896 the record and pension office issued a memorandum relative to the probable number and ages of these survivors. It estimated the number on June 30 of each year from 1890 to 1910 and thenceforward at the end of each five-year period up to 1915, when the last soldier or sailor is estimated to have passed away. For the sake of comparison the whole number of pensioners at each stated period down to the last return is added to the exhibit, as follows:

|-------|----------------------|--------------------|
| 1890  | 1,285,471            | 537,944            |
| 1891  | 1,261,232            | 676,160            |
| 1892  | 1,236,076            | 876,068            |
| 1893  | 1,209,968            | 966,112            |
| 1894  | 1,182,889            | 969,541            |
| 1895  | 1,154,810            | 970,521            |
| 1896  | 1,125,725            | 970,768            |
| 1897  | 1,095,628            | 970,014            |
| 1898  | 1,064,524            | 963,712            |
| 1899  | 1,032,418            | 951,519            |
| 1900  | 999,339              | 933,529            |
| 1901  | 965,213              | 907,735            |
| 1902  | 930,380              | 893,446            |
| 1903  | 894,585              | 868,545            |
| 1904  | 858,002              | 832,002            |
| 1905  | 820,467              | 795,722            |
| 1906  | 782,722              | 758,722            |
| 1907  | 744,196              | 721,196            |
| 1908  | 705,197              | 682,197            |
| 1909  | 665,832              | 643,832            |
| 1910  | 626,231              | 604,231            |

June 30, 1915, five years later, the number is reduced to 429,727; in 1920 to 251,727; in 1925 to 116,073; in 1930 to 37,033; in 1935 to 6,296, and in 1940 an infinitesimal 340 only survive.

The aggregate of "actual pensioners" include pensioners of all wars and all classes, among them nearly 260,000 widows. The number of civil war soldiers on the pension rolls June 30, 1903, the last return, was 703,456; in 1902, 725,100; in 1901, 725,789; in 1900, 741,965; in 1899, 742,467. For the year ending June 30, 1903, there was a net decrease of 21,644 civil war pensioners. The annual decrease goes on in increased ratio. If the foregoing estimate of the record and pension office be approximately correct, all but 191,571 of the surviving soldiers and sailors of the civil war are already borne on the pension rolls. It is believed, however, that the earlier estimates of their death rate were too great, and that the number of nonpensioners now considerably exceeds 191,571. The commissioner of pensions six months ago expressed the official opinion that the number was not less than 200,000 and possibly 225,000.

LONGEVITY OF PENSIONERS. Probably these veterans are more tenacious of life than the average of other people. In fact, pension experts consider them a selected class, from among whom, by the operation of the law of the survival of the fittest, the weakest were long since eliminated, either by the vicissitudes of the war itself or their subsequent results. The special favors they enjoy and the care devoted to these aged veterans in various ways probably do tend to prolong their lives beyond the average. This theory of the record and pension office, however, is entirely against the popular supposition that they have been broken in health by the hardships suffered in the war.

Most people will jump to the conclusion that sooner or later, under the proposed law, every soldier of the civil war must come upon the pension rolls. Not so. There will be many thousands of survivors who will never apply for the benefit—men in such prosperous circumstances that a pension is entirely unnecessary to them. Another contingent is a considerable body who imagine themselves too proud to apply for a pension, or perhaps too patriotic. The ninety-day service restriction will also cut out a considerable number of survivors. The records disclose that 42,223 officers and men served less than ninety days. A very large percentage of these count among the survivors, because they went into the service in the last days of the war, being generally several years younger than those who enlisted at the beginning.

Excluding these classes and discounting deaths meanwhile, it is estimated that the proposed law will ultimately add not exceeding 100,000 names to the pension rolls. It is stated on high authority that a service pension, that is, one taken in all survivors, would not add more than that number of new names to the rolls. In 1895 slightly less than two-thirds of the survivors were already on the pension rolls; June 30, 1903, three-fourths of the survivors had become pensioners. Yet, strangely enough, in 1935 there were more civil war soldiers on the pension rolls by 32,000 than in 1903.

MANY MORE YOUNG WIDOWS. The estimate that the last surviving soldier will have disappeared prior to 1945 is doubtless correct, but his demise will by no means wipe out the civil war pension roll. Thousands of their widows will remain. On June 30, 1903, civil war widow pensioners numbered 248,391, an increase of 24,581 in five years. Their numbers will soon begin to show a net decrease, notwithstanding the numerous additions yet to be made. It is presumed that there will be surviving pensioners of this class as late as 1945, forty years after the disappearance of the last Union soldier. At the end of the last fiscal year there were still five widows of revolutionary soldiers on the pension rolls. The pensioned widows of the war of 1812 numbered 1,115. Long after those wars many very old soldiers married very young women. There was a soldier of 1812 still carried on the pension roll last year, Hiram Cronk, of Ava, N. Y. He was then 102 years old.

In his last annual report Commissioner Ware states the aggregate payments for the annual addition of money expense is pensions from July 1, 1790, to July 1, 1905, seventy-five years, at $96,445,444.25. In the next thirty-eight years, to June 30, 1903, the pension disbursements of the government aggregated the stupendous sum of $2,037,326,080.64, of which sum $95,647,934.71 were for cost, maintenance and expenses of the system, more than all previous pension payments. The greatest annual expenditure for pension account was in 1893, $161,774,572.36. In 1903 the total was $141,722,570.60.

FRUIT AT THE BREAKFAST TABLE

Nature Provides Its Own Remedies, Which If Used Judiciously, Insure Perfect Health at All Times.

Aside from the pleasure of eating seasonal fruits before beginning the first meal of the day, this custom has undoubtedly arisen from the well known fact that nearly all fruit and more particularly plums and PRUNES contain natural laxative principles which act directly on the stomach and bowels.

Constipation, that dread and troublesome complaint which is undoubtedly the basic cause of nine-tenths of the dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, etc., so prevalent among our people to-day, and which, if neglected, surely leads to more complicated and serious organic diseases, can surely be prevented, and when not too far advanced can be absolutely cured by the judicious use of the modern laxative and cathartic California Prune Wafers.

They are not a patent medicine in the ordinary sense of the word, being compounded from fresh California Prunes, which every intelligent person knows is truly nature's laxative.

A dainty little wafer, always the same, compounded in a highly concentrated form from fresh California Prunes, they are a natural dissolvent, acting on the contents of the stomach and bowels and not on the organs themselves.

They regulate the Liver and Stomach, Cleanse the System and Purify the Blood. Cure all Bowel Troubles, Biliousness, Bad Breath, Bad Blood, Wind on the Stomach, Bloating Bowels, Pouch Mouth, Headache, Indigestion, Pimples and Dizziness.

Every household should have its family package of CALIFORNIA PRUNE WAFERS, and at the first signs of approaching illness, or when under the weather, take a couple of wafers, and the doctor's bills will soon be much smaller than they are now.

You can eat what you please if you follow each meal with a CALIFORNIA PRUNE WAFER, which quickly dissolves the most indigestible food, and helps to carry it through and out of the system in a gentle and healthful manner, without the slightest pain, griping or nausea. 100 Wafers for 25c.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Wheat—Extreme cold weather gave rise to apprehension among traders that damage to the growing plant is probable. As a result of these fears there was urgent demand from shorts at the opening. May was 1/2c to 1 1/2c higher at the start. May rose to 1/2c. All this figure wheat began to come out. Selling was increased by Liverpool cables, which showed some weakness, also by large world's shipments. The climax was reached on heavy selling by brokers said to be acting for the American interest. This change of front on the part of leading holders caused a break. On the downturn many stop-loss orders had sustained the decline. Shortness quantities were thrown upon the market, and the big long was credited with disposing of anywhere from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 bushels. When pressure to sell subsided May was down to 1/2c, a drop of 3/4c from the high point. Active buying by shorts on the decline advanced the price. May came out on the bulge another reaction followed. Close was weak, May 2c under Saturday's close. July closed 1/2c lower. On the coast fifteen boat loads were taken. Liverpool 1/2c lower.

Corn—In the face of the big break in wheat corn showed surprising strength. Buying by local traders on poor showing of grain coming in maintained firm tone early in the session. Later

THE DEATH RECORD.

BRENNAN.

Joseph W. Brennan, one of the well known citizens of Jacksonville, passed away Sunday at midnight at his home on East College avenue. He had been ill for several months and as his sickness had been serious his friends were in a measure prepared for his death.

Mr. Brennan was born in this city Aug. 17, 1857, and had resided here all his life. He was at one time engaged in the stove and tinware business and recently had been in the employ of the sheet metal department of the C. P. & St. L. shops.

In 1880 he was married to Miss Mary R. McHugh, of this city, who died in 1893. He is survived by two children, Walter and Miss Mary Josephine, both of Jacksonville; also by two brothers, James H. and John F., also of this city.

Mr. Brennan was a man of splendid bearing, upright and industrious. He had a kindly and generous disposition and his personal popularity was attested by a wide circle of warm friends. The news of his death will be received with sincere regret. He was a member of the Modern Americans.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of Our Savior.

After a residence of fifteen years at 911 West College avenue, this city, Mrs. Jane B. Joy passed over to the other side at six o'clock yesterday morning, at the age of 80 years. She was born at Piqua, Ohio, but at an early age came to this state, spending her early years at Lacon, and her mature life in Cass and Morgan counties. She was the wife of John P. Joy, who died in 1879, and the mother of James A. Joy, of Boston, Mass., and Charles B. Joy, who resides at the old homestead on Joy Prairie.

Notice of the funeral will be given later.

KENNEY.

Michael Kenney, long a well known resident of this county, died at his home near Franklin early Monday morning. Death came suddenly and was a surprise to his family and friends. He was born in Ireland in 1826. He came to this country in 1851 and has resided here ever since. By strict attention to business and frugality he became possessed of a considerable estate and was known as a shrewd business man.

He is survived by his wife and eleven children, six sons and five daughters. The sons are John, James, Michael, Jr., Patrick, Daniel and Martin; the daughters, Mrs. Eva Johnson, Miss Winnie, Mrs. Frank Belt, of Bloomington, Sister Elizabeth of St. Joseph's home, Springfield, and Nellie.

The funeral will be conducted from the Church of the Sacred Heart in Franklin.

APPOINTED TRUSTEE.

Colonel John R. Robertson has been appointed trustee for the State School for the Deaf in place of Mr. King, who has resigned. It is an appointment which cannot fail to commend itself to every person who is acquainted with the gentleman and the duties he will have to perform.

MINERS WILL NOT CHANGE SYSTEM.
Indianapolis, Jan. 26.—The miners' convention to day decided to retain the present plan of collecting dues and not adopt the stamp system.

J. HERMAN WILL

NOT MOVE

But Will Remain Where He Is and Have Another Store in Addition.

Owing to a provoking mistake in Mr. Herman's announcement he was made to say that he intended to move from his present place of business when the opposite is the fact. He has a lease of several years on his present quarters which he will retain and in which he will continue the millinery business as heretofore and in addition will have a second store on the south corner of East State street and the square.

SEVERE WEATHER HERE.

The weather Sunday while not disagreeable was decidedly cold and people found special pleasure in the joys of the fireside. During Sunday night a light snow fell and the thermometer went down considerably, some people reporting as low as nine degrees below zero Monday morning. The cold moderated somewhat before noon, but later snow began to fall steadily and the temperature to go lower. The driving snow continued until nearly midnight Monday, when thermometers about the square were registering four degrees below zero. Indications are that this weather will continue for several days and will probably be the most severe of the winter.

The prevention of consumption is entirely a question of commencing the proper treatment in time. Nothing is so well adapted to ward off fatal lung troubles as Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

GAVE CONCERT

Enjoyable Program by Yoedlers at Christian Church.

Reilhofer's Tyrolean Yoedlers appeared at the Christian church Monday evening as the best attraction in the Men's league lecture course. A good sized audience was present and they were well repaid for braving the severe weather. The program was a varied one and demands for encore followed each number. The concert has many unique features and the native costumes in which the members of the quartet appeared were of a striking character and rich color. The two most pleasing numbers on the program were the Alpine violin solo by Mr. Reilhofer and the contraalto solo by Miss Gruber. With-out exception the numbers in the course have given very general satisfaction and the members of the league are to be congratulated upon furnishing such a splendid series of entertainments at a price within the reach of everyone. The course has certainly been one of the entertainment features of the winter.

The program of last evening was as follows:

Yoedling march—Quartet.
Greeting—Zither solo.
I'd Like to Hear That Song Again—Quartet.
Selection, mountain flutes, original shepherd boys' whistles.
Mountain Joy—Yoedling.
Evening Bells, zither solo—Miss Kathie Kirchmiller.
My Highland—Yoedling duet.
Mr. Frank Reilhofer in his famous impersonations—faces of noted characters, past and present.
The Holy City—Vocal quartet.
Alpine violin solo—Mr. Reilhofer.
On the Alps—Quartet.
Duet for Xylophone.
Contra alto solo—Miss Wally Gruber.
Vienna Waltz—Zither duet.
Echo in the Mountain, yoedling solo—Mrs. Franz Reilhofer.
Finale—Medley of popular American songs.

OLD ARMY RECORD

Interesting Facts Gleaned From Old Publication Owned by M. V. Wyatt.

M. V. Wyatt has loaned the Journal two interesting papers which bring up old times vividly. One of them is a piece of the Vicksburg Daily Citizen of July 2, 1863, and breathes the spirit which animated the citizens of that part of the land about that time. One item recalls the sore straits to which the people of the beleaguered city were put for the necessities of life. It says: "We are indebted to Major Gillespie for a steak of confederate beef, alias meat. We have tried it and assure our friends that if it is rendered necessary they need have no scruples at eating the meat. It is sweet, savory and tender and so long as we have a mule left we are satisfied our soldiers will be content to subsist on it."

A part of another item refers to a clipping from the Memphis Bulletin. It goes on to say:

"The former editors of this paper were pro-southern men and were arrested for speaking the truth when truth was unwelcome to Yankeeedom, and placed in the chain gang, working at Warrenton, where they now are. This paper at present is in duress and edited by a pink nosed, slab sided, toad eating Yankee, who is a lineal descendant of Judah Iscariot and a brother germane of the greatest Puritanical, sycophantic howling scoundrel unhung, Parson Brownlow."

Another item makes rather light of the actions of the Union forces besieging the fated city and still another paragraph dilates over the victorious march of Lee northward, striking terror into the hearts of all Yankeeedom. It adds:

"To day the mongrel administration of Lincoln, like Japhet, are in search of a father, for their old Abe has departed for parts unknown and terror reigns in their halls."

It should be remembered that a day or two after the publication of this paper Vicksburg surrendered and Lee was overcome at Gettysburg. Of course it was war which has been aptly described by General Sherman and it is a pleasure to remember that now we are a united land without any of the rancor of the dark days of '61 and '65.

The paper was printed on the back of common wall paper and was suggestive of the difficulties of the people during the siege.

The other is a camp paper published in the camp of the first division of the department of the west. It was called "The Proclamation" and the first issue, bearing date of Dec. 4, 1861, was published at Tipton, Mo. The editor was E. F. Chittenden of Co. B, 14th Ill. Vol. At the top of the editorial column are the words of Stephen A. Douglas: "There can be no middle ground in this contest; we must now be patriots or traitors." The paper contains a brief history of the 14th Illinois regiment. John M. Palmer was the first colonel and A. K. Johnson the lieutenant colonel. Later William Can, formerly of this county, was lieutenant colonel of the regiment. The name of Mr. Wyatt appears as orderly sergeant in Co. I. In speaking of the regiment the paper has the following to say:

"This body was formed at Jacksonville, Ill., May 11, and sworn in to service May 25 by Captain Pitcher. While quartered here the members of the regiment received many expressions of kindness and attention from the good people of Jacksonville which made the transition from home comforts to camp fare far from disagreeable. On the 13th of June, while a national flag, presented by the ladies of Jacksonville, was being raised a sad accident occurred. By the premature discharge of a cannon, which was being used in honor of the occasion John G. Stiglebauer of Co. B, had both hands blown off. He was very quickly taken care of by Supt. Gillett of the deaf and dumb."

The articles closes after narrating other incidents. "Our future is known only to Him who seeth the end from beginning."

Among other items of news scattered through the paper, which is certainly a splendid piece of work considering the difficulties under which the composers must have worked are the following:

"John C. Breckinridge, escaped from Lexington by skulking in a buggy behind a small nigger, and James B. Clay, loaded with all sorts of weapons, was captured by a small white boy."—Louisville Journal.

"At the conclusion of this war we shall have in the field over 300,000 veteran soldiers; and our navy will comprise over 200 ships of war, and we shall have a naval brigade of about 50,000 men. Let European governments be careful then, how they treat us during the continuance of war, for when we have settled one domestic trouble, the slightest word of insult or provocation may let loose upon Canada and Cuba this terrible force, and sweep the last vestige of monarchical rule from this continent."

In striking type appears the following: "Lost! Lost!! A volume of Shakespeares plays belonging to the undersigned, who will be thankful to 'all the world and the rest of mankind' for the return of the same. S. S. Bunce, Sergeant Artillery, 14th Ill."

The type is clean and distinct and the paper is a souvenir that must certainly be highly valued by the owner.
